Nuts and Bolts in Today's Headlines

One of the Residence Hall women was bemoaning her luck as a fisherman, and her roommate asked why. The girl replied, "That Trout-man from the Quad won't take bait."

"Just Another Lemon" sadly commented George Bland, the other night, after kissing a certain girl. He identifies lipstick by its taste.

"Darn That Dream" is Eric Daniel's theme song, so Mr. Steele wasn't surprised this week when he walked into Eric's room and found feathers from Eric's pillow scattered all over the room.

Werner Herz Climbs Dizzy Heights Toward Stardom in Cinema Thriller

Werner Herz, freshman student at the College, recently signed a contract with Goltro-Metyn Films Incorporated to appear in a series of blood and thunder cowboy western thriller movies. Werner plans to leave the College and his duties as assistant news editor of the Missourian next Saturday to begin work on his first picture, "Cannonball Cleopatra and the Cowboy." Appearing opposite him in a breathtaking stellar role will be gorgeous glamorous Mae South, the blonde cinema heroine of celluloid fame.

When interviewed concerning his meteoric rise to success in America, the golden land of opportunity, Mr. Herz seemed very coy and starchy-eyed. Mr. Herz is known among students at the College as a modest person and a reporter just by chance discovered that Herz had signed the movie contract.

It all came about when Herz's new Easter bonnet appeared in church in the shape of a "ten-gallon" sombrero. It appears that Mr. Herz, knowing that he would need the Western style hat in his dramatic roles in the movies, and learning also that America has no sales resistance to the custom of going to church in new hats, decided, in his economical way, to kill the two proverbial birds with one bonnet. Hence his spectacular hat—lying even with some worn by the ladies in the choir—aroused the distrustful instincts of a reporter, and led to an exclusive interview in which Mr. Herz revealed his dream of a career in the movies.

His opportunity came when a movie scout, who was in Maryville a few weeks ago, attended a banquet at which Herz gave an address. With the discerning eye of one who knows the real thing when he sees it, the talent scout contacted Herz and gave him the movie contract.

John Green Will Dance in Recital

John Green, Senior in the College, has been selected for the guest soloist in the spring recital of the College Dance Club, according to Miss Day Weems, sponsor, who made the announcement of the coming recital today.

According to Miss Weems, Green, a former pupil of Zorina, famous ballet dancer, will present two numbers, "The Jitterbug Fantasy," and "The Glowworm Turns," which is described as a "satire on the Dance of Life" as contrasted with "Narcissus" in "The Dance of Spring." Green will be attired in classical Greek dancing costume in both numbers.

Residence Hall Women Diligently Smoke in Spite of Growing Debt

Smoking will be permitted at Residence Hall, was the word passed around on the campus the first part of this week. Then from the office of Dr. Margaret Ruth Smith came the declaration:

"Nix!"

What a paradox, one might think, as did the dorm women. Puffing away diligently at a Pell Well, Iola Argo said, "We girls need to smoke."

Pushing his way through the smoke screen at the Hall, a reporter inquired at the desk: "Why do dorm women want to smoke so badly?"

Just then he was brushed aside as a Railway Express man came in with the daily order of fifty cartons of Old Silvers for third floor residents.

"Smoking is immoral," said Marjory Stone, Hall president, blowing smoke profusely through her nose. "We can't stand it here."

For one thing, the reporter learned, the Residence Hall council is now in debt for ash trays and high cigar tax.

"We must have the tax reduced," 160 co-eds chorused.

From the office of Dr. Margaret Ruth Smith came the final ultimatum: "Nix."

Bearcats Hold Lead in Income Tax Returns

Again this year the Bearcat football players lead in the income tax returns recently filed with the federal tax bureau.

Last year, the sixth time the local players had taken the income tax lead, Bill Bernau and Marion Rogers were in the lead. This year, however, Larry Loos and Joe Kurtright, co-captains of the 1941 squad, are in the front, each filing an annual income of $6000 each.

Coach Milner turned in a bill of thirteen cents for grapefruit when the team played Washington University.

Mr. Zwingle Will Elaborate Again

From a reliable source close to the Director of Personnel for Men it was learned today that Mr. J. L. Zwingle will address the Maryville Ladies Aid Society tonight on "Why Hitler's Mustache Will Not Win the War For Him" or "The Value of Hirsute Adornment in Relation to International Peace."

He will speak under the auspices of the B. A. B. A. (Benevolent Association of the Barflies of America.)

Student Acts Oddly; Blames the Sunspots

When Wilbur Fulkerson was observed sporting himself in the courtyard of the Quad this week in a manner reminiscent of Ted Shawn, the boys asked him if he had taken up ballet dancing.

Wilbur replied, "No, I'm radio sensitive and that big sunspot on the sun is still bombarding me with electrical particles. I'm dodging them."

Announce Plan to Help Wooers

This beautiful landscape is the photographer's view of the site of the campus of fifty years ago, when the land more or less took on the appearance of a Mississippi swamp, as evidenced in the above picture. Time and time again, especially during wet years (meaning rainy seasons, and not referring to prohibition or vice versa), this old swamp idea has reoccurred on the campus, especially in the vicinity of the gymnasium, where often the ground is slippery and soft and muddy. A. J. Caulfield, local expert physiography and wild duck habitats, predicts that in fifty more years the campus may again revert itself into a swamp, with campus buildings sinking into the mire overnight.

Dorm Prexies Would Have Men and Women Enjoying More Love Life

A plan of exchange study hours, whereby on certain nights men of the Quad will study with Residence Hall women, and vice versa on other nights, has been worked out, and was announced this week by John Landrum, Quad Mayor, and Marjory Stone, Residence Hall President.

When questioned by reporters as to the reasons for this new proposal, Marjory Stone stated that "For the past several years, the love life of College students has been neglected. Students spend an undue amount of time studying. Something needs to be done to get their minds off books."

Miss Stone pointed out that in a survey soon to be made public by the Student Senate, it had been found that only three out of every five women on the campus have been kissed during the past year. And only two of these three have been kissed by campus men, she complained, indicating a certain amount of timidity among the local Calahads.

"What is to become of College women," Miss Stone bemoaned, as she sank from exhaustion.

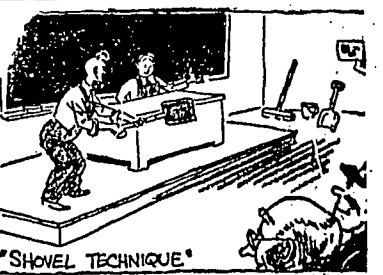

Recovering, the Residence Hall prexy stated that the Senate survey also showed that the 150 campus women who had been kissed by campus men had signified that the most of this work had been done by a total of 23 Romeos. This is an example of unequal distribution, Miss Stone contends.

According to Landrum, what this College needs is more and better wooing.

Landrum would go so far as to propose a class in wooing technique to be taught by a physical education instructor, but objections have been raised to this, mainly because it is feared the instructor's technique may be antiquated.

Sweepers to Learn "Shovel Technique"

A class in "Shovel Technique" will be organized in the near future for men students whose duties are to keep the campus buildings clean.

The class will be taught by Papa Meredith. It will be the duty of Melvin Carter to keep the shovels bright.

Bilby Wins in Legs Contests

Glade Bilby, better known in campus groups as the "man without a country stare," will represent the College at the International Men's Leg Show, to be held in New Orleans April 21.

He won this right to represent the College when he was awarded the distinction of being the man with the most perfect legs among the 200 who competed for the honors last night at the Tivoli theater.

After Bilby told reporters he owed his beautiful legs to eating canned sauer kraut, every store in town was immediately bought out of the product, and it was learned Townsend ordered twenty car loads more this morning.

Alpha Etta Apple Would Simplify Effects

Janitor Brings Four Planks to Form a Platform

The most astounding social move of the year was announced this week when at a joint meeting of the executive boards and sponsors of all organizations on the campus, it was announced that in an endeavor to simplify extra-curricular activities, all the recognized organizations on the campus were to be consolidated immediately. In this drastic step, all activities from varsity football to Dance Club were organized under the same set of rules and will be governed by the same executives.

After the project had been discussed and, also cussed, a vote was taken which was formally stated as "Resolved: that all organizations on the campus should be exploited, organized, and entertained under one set of laws, by-laws, and in-laws and shall henceforth and forever more be known as Alpha Etta Apple." The name was chosen after much deliberation as being the only possible indication of the vacuity of the organization.

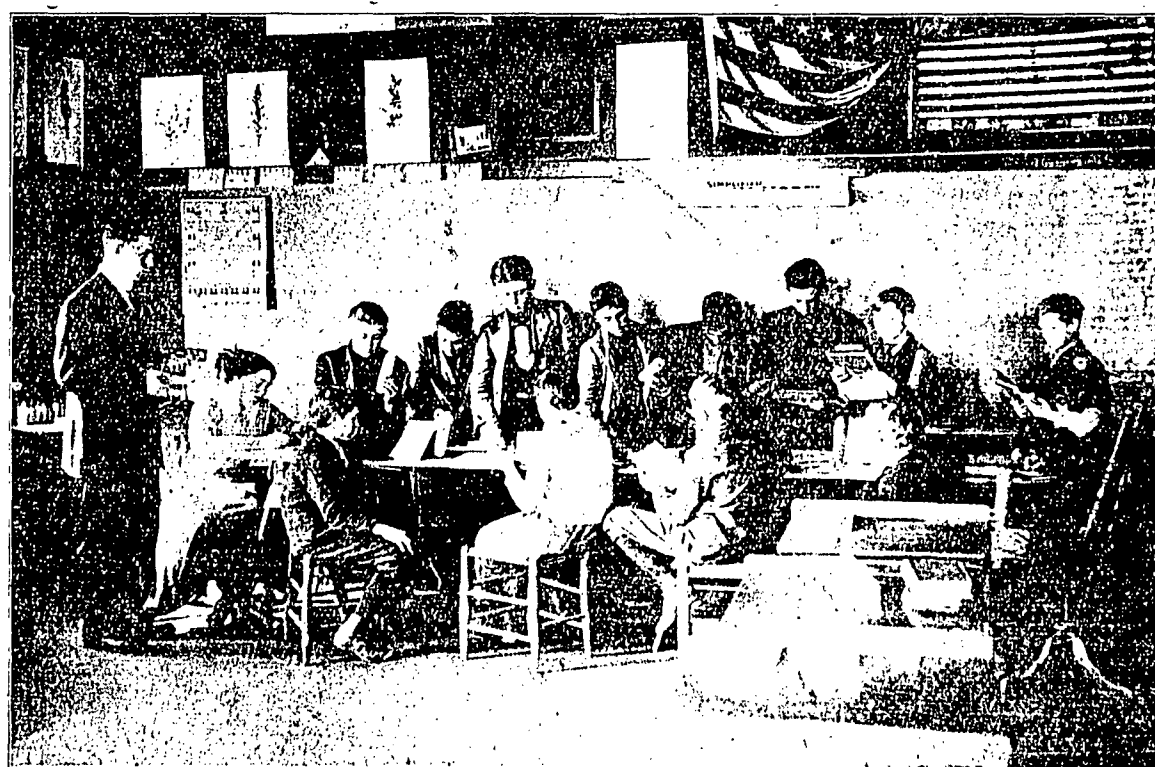

Resolution Passed

When put to a vote, the resolution was passed by three times as many votes as there were people present; already indicating a serious interest in the welfare of the institution.

Some question was raised as to the legality of such a vote, but was immediately squelched by self-appointed extempore sergeant-at-arms, Bill Bernau, who shouted in a mighty voice in an attempt to quell the rising anger of the mob, "Shades of 'Doc' Davis and Rex Creighton, who ever heard of questioning the results of a College election? This crushing statement shamed the crowd into silence and the meeting proceeded.

Platform Established

The next subject to be announced by the chairman, Miss Miriam Waggoner, who was chosen because she was sponsor of more outstanding organizations than any other faculty member, was the delicate situation of having to select a platform for the organization. Upon discussion with Mr. Meredith, who was called in to aid in settling some disputes about the propriety of speeches being made from the chandeliers in Social Hall, it was discovered that he could only allow them the use of four planks from the paint shop, and the whole platform was, of necessity, based upon these short

The above picture shows the new executive board of the recently organized Alpha Etta Apple society. These fourteen brave reactionaries are hard at work in the attic of the main building with the door barred working on the proposed constitution for the soon to be exposed institution. In an effort to conceal their identity until the constitution is ready to be published, the men and women, and even the sponsor, have dressed in antiquated garments. However, a faint resemblance to Dr. Hake can be discerned in the visage of the sponsor, and Bob Chapman's features are plainly seen in the boy seated directly in front of Dr. Hake.

The quadruple tenets of the new Alpha Etta Apple are as follows:

1. All work
2. And no play
3. Makes Jack
4. A dull boy.

As soon as a constitution can be written by the special committee named for this purpose it will be turned in to Dean Jones for official sanction. It is customary to present such requests to the Student Senate, but this group was also absorbed in the new organization, and Dean Jones was selected to be the governing force behind the governing force of Alpha Etta Apple, which is to be the new governing force of the College.

Problem Arises

Under the new program of consolidation of all activities, all the members of Alpha Etta Apple will enjoy all the activities of all the organizations which were taken in by A. E. A. At first, it is feared, this may cause some confusion when spring football arrives, but since "Survival of the Fittest" is to be the motto of the society, it is thought that this problem will produce its own corpses, er, ah, solution.

No Regrets

On this front page we have endeavored to create a little good fun. The people we have mentioned here are all good sports, and that is the reason we used them.

April 1 comes but once a year, so it will be another year at least before such an atrocity will be exploited on students of the campus.

Fear not, this is only the student edition, for another front page is being used in the mail edition.

Wayne Taylor Will Dash in Race Between Himself and Chuck Fenske

A feature attraction of the track season this spring will be a race between diminutive but determined miler, Wayne Taylor, and Chuck Fenske, who defeated Glenn Cunningham this spring. The arrangements for the novelty race were made by letter from Mr. Fenske who contacted Mr. Taylor and requested the honor of competing against him at any convenient time.

He further stated that Glenn Cunningham, his rival of many seasons was so impressed by the talent of the young teachers' college track man after losing to him, 53-44 in an exhibition race here last September, that his enthusiasm for the ability of Taylor had infected many of the world's best milers. He also intimated that others; Venske, San Romani, and Stepin Fetchit, would also contact Taylor in the near future for racing dates.

Further announcement of the place and time will also be announced as soon as the plans are completed.

In the above picture is shown J. Capernicus Raccoon, who will appear as the second major entertainment of the spring quarter next Wednesday night. He will swing from rafter to rafter in the auditorium, and casually drop peanut hulls upon the heads of the audience. He will be accompanied on the piano by Miss Marian Kerr.

Many Special Events Will Mark Annual Senior Day on College Campus Monday

President to Address Group In Assembly

Special assemblies, an intramural track meet, conducted tours, a dance and many other events will entertain visitors at the Sixth Annual Senior Day which is to take place at the College next Monday.

Approximately twelve hundred high school seniors from all over Northwest Missouri and Southern Iowa are expected to invade the campus Monday. A general committee composed of students and faculty members under the supervision of Mr. Herbert Dieterich has made plans to entertain them during the day and to make them acquainted with life at this College.

Activities during the morning will include a special assembly and tours of the campus and campus buildings under the guidance of College students. As soon as registration has been completed, bulletins containing information about College courses, pre-professional training, the College itself, College activities, and the opportunities to be had at College will be distributed among the high school senior groups. Students stationed at an information booth will answer any question that may be asked and faculty members will be on hand in their offices all day to consult with visitors who may seek their guidance and advice.

Will Show Pictures

Motion pictures of South America, Mexico, Alaska, and the Orient, taken by various faculty members will be shown in the auditorium at various intervals in the morning and afternoon.

As soon as each group has registered, it will be conducted on a guided tour of the campus by a corps of College students. Such buildings as the Library, the Horace Mann Building, the College Farm, Residence Hall, the Quad, the Industrial Arts Building, the Main Building with its exhibits specially planned for the occasion, and the Horace Economics Management House will be visited and demonstrators will explain the special features of each.

At the Gymnasium, a swimming exhibition will be in progress all morning, and ping pong and badminton games will be provided for the amusement of the seniors.

President Lamkin to Speak

All visitors will report to the Auditorium at 11 o'clock, where they will hear an address by President Uel W. Lamkin on "The Meaning of a College Education." Several heads of College departments will give short talks; Dr. Anna M. Painter, chairman of the English department, will discuss some aspects of Arts and Letters, Dr. J. W. Hake of the department of Physics will speak on the Pure Sciences, and Dr. Eugene H. Klempell, head of the Social Science department, will discuss the Social Studies. Musical solos will be given by Miss Jacinta Kampmeyer and Mr. H. N. Schuster, voice instructor.

Lunch under the supervision of Miss Ruth Villars will follow the morning's activities and will be succeeded by a dance in the Old West Library to the tunes of the College Dance Orchestra directed by Mr. John Geiger. Motion pictures will be shown in the auditorium at the same time.

Assembly at 2 o'clock

A second assembly sponsored by the Student Senate will gather all visitors in the auditorium at 2 o'clock and will feature performances by various College organizations. The Dance Club will present two numbers, the Girls' Triple Trio and Mrs. C. Alex McBurney of Slater, Mo., who aided in Personal Appraisal Clinic week here recently, lost a topaz necklace while she was on this campus. What's This About Hats?

The "Association for the Prevention of Taking Off Hats in Elevators" is a Washington D. C. organization. It is dedicated to the belief that removing hats promotes class distinction because hats are removed for female passengers and not for the female elevator operator. Besides it's embarrassing to bald-headed men.

In West Virginia it is an old custom to burn the hats of fathers when their first boy is born. (Father's head is supposed to enlarge considerably so that the old hat no longer fits.)

Beau Brummel never (well, almost never) took his hat off, even in the presence of ladies, because it mussed his hair which his valet spent hours in fixing.

The statement is credited to Lucius Beebe that he would rather go without his pants than without his hat.

The wearing of the fez has been forbidden in Turkey by government order. Penalty—death. The men in Turkey now wear derbies, straws, snap-brims.

Billy Livingston, Cafe Society royalty is reported to have made the statement that, if he had to make a choice to be well "furned out," he would rather own one suit and ten hats; than ten suits and one hat.

Raymond Twyford, advocate of color in men's clothes has a map showing New York "hot spots" pasted in the crown of his silk topper.

A well-known restaurant chain in New York City claims that since it abolished checking of men's hats with accompanying tips, its business has more than doubled.

The Male Quartet will be heard in vocal offerings. Among other numbers, a trumpet solo by Mr. John Geiger, a piece played by the String Quartet, and a presentation of the Speech department will be included in the program.

An intramural track meet on the College athletic field at 3 o'clock in the afternoon will bring to a close the day's events and will furnish excitement and thrills to the high school visitors before they return to their homes.

Mr. Dieterich Chairman

Mr. Herbert R. Dieterich, principal of the Horace Mann High School, is chairman of the general committee for Senior Day activities. He will be assisted by a group of committees composed of College students and faculty members.

The committees and names of committee chairmen follow:

Registration, Marcia Tyson; tours and guides, Frank Strong; publicity, Werner Heitz; morning assembly, Dr. Blanche H. Dow; afternoon assembly, Frank Baker; moving pictures, Mr. Norval Saylor; dance, Dr. Margaret Ruth Smith; luncheon, Miss Ruth Villars; guides for luncheon, Miss Minnie B. James; exhibits, Gilbert Western; and athletic events, Joe Kurtright; posters and signs, Ocie Rhoades; guidance clinic, college personnel committee.

Speaker Traces Background of Hitler Movement

Assembly Features Lecture of Former German Economist

Neglect of the moral and spiritual values of Christianity, abuse of its essential teachings, and growing centralization of government at the expense of states' rights were the chief factors in bringing about and maintaining the National Socialist regime in Germany of today, Dr. Leopold Heinemann, formerly economic adviser to the German Railroad and member of the German board of treasury pointed out in the regular assembly Wednesday morning.

Comparing the phenomenal success and the fanaticism of the Nazi movement with the semi-religious movement begun by Mohammed thirteen hundred years ago, Mr. Heinemann warned that recent occurrences in Europe indicated the setting up of a new religion which preached the policy of the success of power and ruthlessness in keeping man obedient and abolishing the idea of God which had served feudalism to the same purpose.

Increasing centralization of power in the federal capital and the consequent weakening of the influence of the states on the life of the individual, enabled Hitler to take over the reins of government very easily, Dr. Heinemann stated. He warned against similar encroachment upon states' rights in the United States.

Students in English Need to Know Latin

"As preparation for higher study of English, high school work in foreign languages and history is as valuable as high school work in English itself," according to an article signed by departments of English in 35 Iowa colleges and universities.

Continuing, the article has an elaboration of the point: "Particularly regrettable is the postponement to college of fulfillment of the foreign language requirement. Postponed to college, the requirement in foreign language restricts the election of courses which students need in English and in such supporting subjects as history and philosophy, makes it difficult for them to learn any one foreign language thoroughly, and renders it all but impossible for them to proceed to additional foreign languages desirable as tools and backgrounds in English. The study of a foreign language unfortunately takes much time; in Europe the period allotted to any language is commonly four to nine years. We regard it as highly important, therefore, that the student interested in English should come to college with the fullest equipment in language available in his high school."

The authors of the article urge strongly the study of Latin in high school, expressing the opinion that failure to know Latin will put the student at a disadvantage in college. They stress, too, the study of history, especially ancient history and modern European history; algebra and geometry; natural science; and, of course, English and speech.

"The student should have been trained to speak with boldness, to write with correctness, to read with comprehension," says the article.

Shown above is Edna Eckert, well-known actor and impersonator, in her famous portrayal of the life of St. Francis of Assisi. She will appear on the College stage during the regular weekly assembly on Thursday, April 4.

Edna Eckert, Famous Dramatist. Will Present Play in Assembly

Next Thursday, April 4, as a regular assembly program, the College will present Edna Eckert, widely known dramatist, in a play on the life of "St. Francis of Assisi." The play is a five-act dramatization of the great Saint's life, with musical backgrounds from the "Missa Solemnis."

Miss Eckert is famous for her characterizations of great historical figures, among whom are Joan of Arc, Queen Esther, and King Arthur. She has traveled extensively to study the background and locale of the characters she presents in her dramatic repertoire, and to each character she brings both careful and artistic interpretation.

Costumes used by Miss Eckert in this play were designed from old paintings, with a different costume for each scene.

The musical settings for the play, from the "Missa Solemnis" were composed by Dr. Edward Schaefer.

New Teaching Plan Spreads

Student teachers in the College might find themselves doing practice teaching off the campus in the future, if the plan soon to be placed in operation at the Warrensburg Teachers' College spreads to other teachers' colleges in the state.

According to the Warrensburg STUDENT, the Warrensburg College, emulating other colleges which already use the plan, will send student teachers off the campus to nearby schools for teaching experience. The underlying principle of the idea is the same that prompts other professional schools, such as medicine, law, and nursing, to send students out as internes, and law clerks, for practical experience before they are actually permitted to enter into their work professionally.

Only senior students are eligible under this plan.

Let the Seniors Dance

There will be a dance for high school seniors Monday afternoon. This dance is scheduled for high school members, and not students of the College.

The College sponsors dances for College students, but is not sponsoring this dance for them. This dance will find plenty of boys to dance with the high school girls, and College men need not feel that they have any responsibility here.

This is a day for high school seniors. College students should not keep them from enjoying it.

The American Way

The Student Aid program is designed for all needy students between the ages of 16 and 24, inclusive, who are attending secondary, undergraduate, or graduate schools. All non-profit, tax exempt, educational institutions are eligible to institute programs of student aid and are granted quotas based on percentages of their regular enrollment. The school officials have the authority for selecting the students to be helped and for devising and supervising the work on which these students are engaged.

The only stipulations imposed by the National Youth Administration are that the recipients shall be selected on the basis of need; that they shall carry at least three quarters of a normal course of study; and that the work they perform shall be genuinely useful and not displace any of the school's regular employees.

Maximum benefits to students are fixed as follows: high school students, $6.00 per month; under graduate students, $20 per month; and graduate students, $40 per month. Although this is the maximum that may be received by the students, it is possible to receive less, since, at the school's discretion, the institution's allowance may be distributed to as many students as may seem necessary or desirable.

Whenever possible, the National Youth Administration supplements the actual work experience, on the program, with courses of related training, in which project workers, on their own time, widen their spheres of knowledge in their chosen field and acquire a familiarity with shop and office practices, and other training designed to prepare them for places in private industry.

Eichenberg Turns Down $5000 Offer

Hollywood, Calif.—(Special)—Samuel Goldfish, well known Hollywood producer, left Hollywood this morning by plane, bound for some undisclosed destination in the east. It was believed that he was en route to Maryville, Missouri, to talk "turkey" with Barnett Eichenberg, a college student, to whom Goldfish offered a $5,000 weekly contract last week, but which the good looking collegian had turned down because it stipulated that he must co-star with Hedy LaMarr.

"LaMarr is not my type," Eichenberg is reported to have said. It is expected that this complaint will be removed when Goldfish offers him a new contract naming Mae West as his leading lady. Ikey, if he accepts, will be given star billing second to none, not excepting Clark Gable.

Instructor Says He Might Run Even Yet

Mr. J. W. Zwingle, who last week denied rumors that he might run on the third term ticket for President, this week stated that he might, however, consider running, if he would be offered the fourth term plum.

"Politics ain't my middle name," Zwingle asserted, "But I'm game."

Mr. Cooper Rich From Fish Story

Last fall the Missourian came out with a story about Mr. Cooper's fish being stolen from him, and for some time it appeared that the consequences of the theft might be serious for those who perpetrated it. That story was reprinted far and wide, and to date, the repercussions of the story have not as yet been wholly revealed.

This morning it was reported that Mr. Cooper received a check for $5,000 from the Walt Disney studios last week for the use of the fish as a model for the whale in the latest Disney opus, "Pinocchio". At the same time, our informant reports, he received a silver plaque from the "Wisconsin Story-Teller's Association", in "commemoration of your outstanding service in living up to the purposes, and thereby advancing the interests of, the Club."

Engraved on the plaque is a likeness of Mr. Cooper holding his fish.

(By the PSIT* News Service)

Students in colleges throughout the nation are concerned by a bill which is now being debated in Congress. The bill, which provides for a national purge of family albums, and a law prohibiting the preservation of baby photographs, pictures of children in pig tails, pictures of high school and college seniors, and all other pictures of individuals in various phases of degeneration, is overwhelmingly favored by students, according to the Trot poll. A recent survey shows that 88 per cent of the students interviewed indicated that they favored the passage of the bill.

When asked why they favored the bill for the annihilation of family photographs, one million students stated, "I favor a photograph purge because when I go to visit any of my relatives or even my friends, I am compelled to spend endless hours looking at Johnny's first tooth, Cousin Malsie, the one who died with consumption, Sister Kate in leg o' mutton sleeves, and Aunt Mehit-able in her 1890 hat."

Debaters Discuss A Vital Question

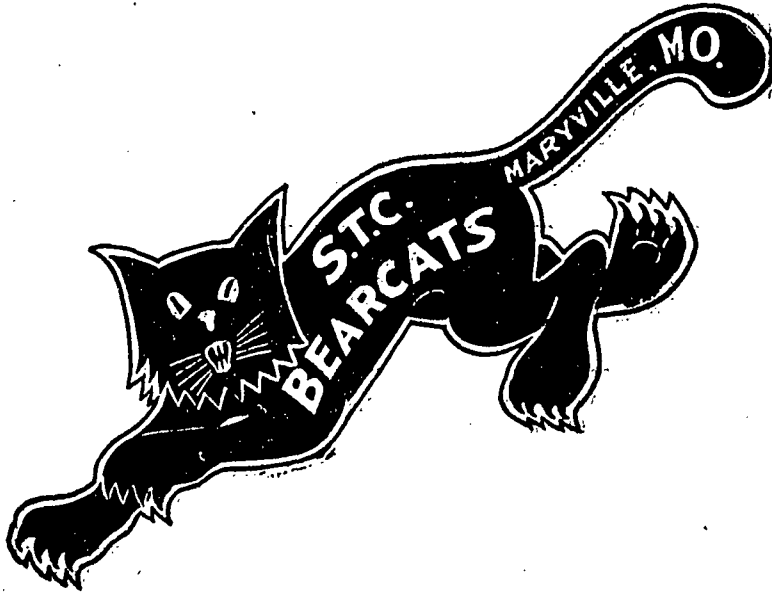

The College debate team, composed of all men students, will debate a woman's team from Stevens College here next Tuesday morning. The question will be "Resolved: Who should sit on the outside in a car which is only wide enough for two people?"

The debate will take place in the Hanamo phone booth on second floor.

Cape Has Difficulty Nosing Out Bearcats for Indoor Track Title

Wayne Taylor Takes Individual Laurels at Meet Last Saturday

Coach Wilbur Stalcup and his Bearcat tracksters arrived in Maryville last Sunday morning from the State indoor track meet held last Saturday in Columbia. The Maryville squad was nosed out of the championship by Cape Girardeau, four-times consecutive winner, 50-1-6 to 44-1-3.

The Indians trailed Maryville throughout most of the meet but came to the fore when they captured the broad jump and mile relay. The local thin-clads placed in every event but the broad jump.

Wayne Taylor, sophomore distance man, was the outstanding man of the meet winning two events and breaking the record in the 880 yard run. Taylor clipped one-half second off the record set by White of Cape in 1936, running the event in 2 minutes and 4 seconds. The Mound City man won the mile run and the 880.

Pete Noblett, freshman from Maryville, followed Taylor home in the mile run and Bob Long turned in a winning performance in the 2-mile run. Another first placer was Bernie McLaughlin as he sailed over the 60-yard low hurdles in 7.3 seconds.

Merrill Ostrus was in on a three-way first place tie in the high jump event. Ostrus and McLaughlin tied for second place in the 60-yard high hurdles. Elmer Barton got a second in the 60-yard dash and a third in the 440. Melvin Carter finished in second place in the shot put division and Floyd Reno followed Spurluck and Hunter of Cape in the pole vault for third place.

The Maryville mile relay team took second place in the final event of the day.

The summaries:

Mile—Won by Wayne Taylor, Maryville; second, Noblett, Maryville; third, Port, Missouri Mines; fourth, Francis, Warrensburg. Time 4 minutes 48 seconds.

60-yard dash—Won by Otis Taylor, Missouri Mines; second, Barton, Maryville; third, Allison, Cape Girardeau; fourth, Lammers, Kirksville. Time 6.3 seconds.

Do You Know Your PQR's

By Robert Flowers
This is a Page taken from the diary of a modern Pepps who, like his celebrated predecessor, Samuel, found that the state of marital unity is not always the blissful happiness that it is cracked up to be. The diary follows in exactly the form it reached the writer.

Sunday, March 17, 1939
This morning I did arise, as usual, with intent to enjoy a peaceful Sunday, and indeed it did look as if I might enjoy a lovely day minus any petty troubles to annoy me. The day started auspiciously, with no mishaps, save for a bit of grapefruit which did squirt into my left eye at breakfast and hence onto my wife's clean white tablecloth, whereupon she began to Rayl about the stain with little regard for the state of my eye, which fortunately did not burn for long.

After this mishap, I hastily retired to the living-room minus my grapefruit and began to read the morning journal, while my wife busied herself in the kitchen. I then became highly interested in the Price of some garden seeds I saw advertised, and did decide to go outside and Potter about in the garden, with a view to planning my spring planting, but my wife stopped me at the door with the assertion that she had a surprise for me.

"And, pray, what may that be?" I queried.

A Vacation But Where

Whereupon she informed me that we were going on a vacation. Some what surprised, I did inquire where we were going, and suggested that we visit her Cousin Bess, who gave me some prune juice on my last visit there, but at this my wife bent her eyes ominously upon me, whereupon I hastily remarked that Kansas City might be a better spot to visit. She then seized a wooden Poynter from my desk and pointed to a spot on a map hanging on the wall of my study.

"We go there," she firmly declared and I, upon examination found the place to be a resort in Florida known as Palm Beach.

I then attempted to rebuke her for wanting to go to a winter resort in the spring, but she, remaining adamant, refused to listen. Whereupon I made my way out the door, but she did follow, talking all the while, so in desperation, I did promise her to draw a few Pence from the bank and start the trip on the morrow. Whereupon she kissed me, and I did make my escape to the garden, where I worked all afternoon, and so to bed and a troubled sleep.

Monday, March 19, 1939
We started on our trip this morning, after a great Rush to get packed, with our neighbors giving us an envious farewell. We looked forward to no troubles on the trip, but the Rhoades were extremely bad, and before I had driven my olde jalopie fifty miles a posterior tire did blow out. Whereupon the car did spin crazily and throw itself into a ditch beside the highway, hurling me out of the window, unharmed, and disposing of my wife likewise.

Spill Upsets His Wife

When I collected by wits about me, I looked about for my wife and espied her sitting in a Poole of extremely cold water with a Pyle of wearing apparel from one of our grips draped in most unbecoming fashion over her head, began to laugh. Whereupon she, arising indignantly, did filing a handful of muddy Reeds at me, with the result that I did become a Pretty-man by virtue of the extremely black mud on my new white suit.

I, being vexed, then ignored my wife's contrite apology, and unconcernedly set about repairing the blowout, my wife meanwhile restoring the grips to the car. I then attempted to start the car, and finding the motor responsive, did succeed in getting it back on the highway, and pointed the hood towards home.

My wife then did query where I was going, and began to plead with me to continue on our journey, to no avail. She then declared her intention of going to Reno, to which I made no reply, and she repeated her Rowe again. Whereupon I gallantly offered to pay her fare to that city, and she lapsed into uncommunicative silence which lasted until we arrived home and so to bed in the same strange silence.

Bearcat Claws...

The track season has at last started. The Bearcats did exceptionally well in the state indoor meet considering the fact that they were unable to do any practicing out-of-doors. With the weather appearing more like Spring Coach Stalcup and his men should get in some good practice in preparation for the William Jewell dual meet in Liberty the fifth of next month.

Wayne Taylor proved to be the man-of-the-hour last Saturday, being the only man in the meet to win two events. If Wayne keeps up at the rate he has started out, and there is little doubt but what he will, there will be little need for Coach Stalcup to worry about the distance runs.

The intramural meet next Monday will give the coach a good chance to see men in action who have not yet gone out for training on the track. This meet was won last year by the Juniors (now Seniors) but they were pushed hard by the Freshmen. Bernie McLaughlin and Merrill Ostrus led their classmates to victory.

Last Saturday's meet was practically all Cape and Maryville. Rolla came in third with 24 points, Springfield and Warrensburg each with 6, and Kirksville tallied 1½. Coach Stalcup appears pleased with the work of the Maryville men and why shouldn't he?

To keep your memory refreshed on the dates of the meets, here they are again. Next Friday, April 5, the Bearcats journey to William Jewell college at Liberty. On the 12th Peru State from Nebraska will meet the Cats on the local field. Kirksville will be here on the 19th. The following week, April 26, will find the Bearcats still on home soil meeting the Warrensburg Mules. May 10 has been set as the date for the annual State outdoor track meet. Last year the meet was held at Rolla but this year it will be held on the Warrensburg campus. Warrensburg has a fine field and it is understood that the Mules are planning to have it in top shape for the meet on the 10th.

There is a possibility of the Bearcats entering a large meet this season but nothing definite has been decided. The Maryville men will find some stiff competition in their meets this spring but this columnist does not expect any disastrous results in the long run.

Spring football practice has started and next week some previews of the squad will be given. Also, a few notes on the intramural softball set-up for this quarter. Several managers have signed up their teams but more are expected by next week. Watch for the story!

College Orchestra Will Play Tomorrow

Students Do Not Know Facts of Student Union

Unfavorable Comment Marks Impression of American Organization

By Student Opinion Surveys
Austin, Texas, March 29 — Only one half of U. S. collegians report that they know about the American Student Union.

Of those who have heard about it, 48 per cent have received an unfavorable impression of the organization.

At least three out of every ten in that same group believe that the A. S. U. is a front for communists in colleges.

Those are the results of a nationwide study conducted by the Student Opinion Surveys of America, scientific polling organization sponsored by the college press. The Northwest Missourian cooperates by taking personal interviews on the College campus with a carefully-selected cross section of students, as is done in other schools from coast to coast.

Although a majority of those with opinions exonerates the American Student Union, long under fire for its uproarious conventions and alleged Red leadership, this survey reveals that it has undoubtedly succeeded in making a mad name for itself with a large sector of the student population. Slightly over 50 per cent of the men and women attending college, however, declare that they never heard of the A. S. U. Those who were acquainted with it were asked these questions, and they gave the answers below:

"Are your reactions to this organization (the A. S. U.) favorable, or unfavorable?"

FAVORABLE 52 per cent
UNFAVORABLE 48 per cent

"Do you believe that the American Student Union is a front for communists in colleges?"

YES 35 per cent
NO 65 per cent

Many comments made by the interviewees centered around their belief that the Union itself is not communistic, but some of its leaders may be.

Miss Wincle Ann Carruth who is sponsor of the Sigma Phi swimming club assisted in the presentation. This same demonstration will be given next Monday morning to the visiting high school seniors.

April 1 Will Be Theme of Varsity Villagers Party

March 28, instead of April 1, will be the time for members of the Varsity Villagers organization and all women living in approved houses to beware, for on that evening members of the Women Householders' Association will entertain them at an April Fools party in the Old West Library of the Administration Building.

Extensive plans have been made for the carrying out of the April Fool theme in the games and stunts which will be used during the evening, and guests have been asked to wear their old clothing and plan for an evening full of surprises and fun.

Prizes will be given for the winners in group games and the April Fool theme will be used in the refreshments.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the party consists of Mrs. J. D. Mutz, Mrs. Alfred Logan, Mrs. Charles Rice, and Mrs. Delmer Johnson.

Bearcats to Meet William Jewell

Coach Wilbur Stalcup will take the twelve men who were entered in the M. I. A. A. indoor track meet to the William Jewell dual meet next Friday. He is also holding tryouts this week to select a few more men to accompany them.

The track mentor said he would enter three men in each event. Weather conditions have hindered the track men's workouts, but they are expected to show up well in this meet.
